

International Patients:

Parents, looking for a caring pediatrician for their most beloved children sometimes have difficulties finding a suitable one. Austria has an excellent health care system and many experts in various fields of medicine. The high standard of caregiving is well known all over Europe and even abroad. As an experienced Pediatrician with many years of work in different fields of pediatric subspecialties, and routinely working as head in the largest pediatric Emergency Department in Vienna, I know all the best colleagues and have a network of experts available.

So, if you look for the best possible caregiver and treatment for your child, and you want to rely on the excellent Austrian health care system, then contact me, Gustav Fischmeister, associate Professor of Pediatrics, MSc- Pediatrician in Vienna, the capital of Austria.

Help in difficult cases, your Pediatrician in Austria

After a short contact by phone or in person, I can decide how urgent and complicated our first meeting will be. When you arrive in Vienna I need to meet you and examine your child, either in my practice or in your Hotel. Depending on the presented problems and symptoms I will recommend and plan a program of examinations (X-ray, Electroencephalogram, Electrocardiogram, Echocardiography, Ultrasound examination and mostly a complete blood check) and eventually a treatment.

If we need more sophisticated radiographic examinations, like computer tomography, magnetic resonance scan or PET-Scan, even an operation to solve the health problems your child presents with, it can be planned and organized in almost all cases.

After having received the results we meet again to discuss the necessary treatment, further examinations or check-ups. Depending on the severity and urgency of the disease you might be able to leave home again or we make more arrangements to solve all the relevant problems.

Pediatrician with Time and Expertise

Most important in caring for international patients is a personal and individual approach. As a Pediatrician I have been lucky to see and treat many complicated cases during the years. I invest a lot of energy and knowledge in finding the right diagnosis, but also in informing the family, the direct care givers. A high quality pediatric workup always ends with thorough information about possibilities, risks, and alternatives of the treatment, of improvement or healing. As your private pediatrician I can offer you all of that.
